An Anchor for Every Home

To Protect Home and Loved Ones

is simply a natural instinct that is developed in every living creature. It is the chief aim of the normal man or woman.

Accordingly, the modern constantly in the human breast a feeling of uncertainty and an intense anxiety as to the future. What will tomorrow, next week, next month, or next year bring forth, is the question which will not down.

Centuries ago man realized his utter helplessness when fighting the battle of life single handed, and evolved the beneficent plan of co-operation, of banding together for mutual aid and protection.

This came into existence the scheme of Mutual Life Insurance, admittedly the most equitable and soundest plan ever devised by man for man. And the best representative today of this form of co-operation is the

STATE MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY, OF ROME, GEORGIA

Issuing the most attractive policies at a cost as low as is compatible with good business principles, and mutually fair to every member (policy-holder), this company today is a financial anchor for every home, which can be dropped with perfect confidence in the harbor of safety and protection.

A MARVELOUS GROWTH

The progress made by the State Mutual Life Insurance Company since 1905 evidences a patronage which could be gained only by implicit confidence in the capacity and integrity of its officers, just and honorable methods, and unquestioned financial strength.

During 1908 the surplus of this great and growing concern increased 268 per cent. During this same period its gain in assets amounted to 55 per cent.

These figures are most significant, and prove it to be a great and honest Company, managed by clean hands, and ably affording the limit of legal and legitimate protection to the limit of low cost and economy to the insured; a company that is young, not old; growing, not grown; growing up and down; forward and not backward; onward and upward; a credit to its City of Rome, to its State of Georgia, to the whole South, and to our whole Country.
